

BLESSING

May you see your world fulfilled in your lifetime,

And may the future world hold a place for you,

May your hope last from generation to generation,

Your heart express understanding,

Your mouth speak wisdom,

And your tongue bring forth song;

May your gaze look straight before you,

May your eyes be enlightened by the light of Torah,

And your face shine like the brightness of the heavens;

May your lips utter knowledge,

Your being rejoice in goodness

And your steps run to hear the words of your heritage.

Adapted from Talmud, Berachot 17a